OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

HISTORY WAS MADE last week on Kenneth Ave., our Frances Clever reports.

The street was swept. Frances maintains that this was the first time in the 15 years she has lived on the street that a street sweeper did the honors to the street.

Kenneth Ave., by the way for the uninitiated, is one of the streets in a narrow strip of unincorporated territory that juts into the corporate limits of Campbell.

Although Campbell virtually surrounds this neck of land, the residents of the area have persistently and somewhat aggressively resisted any and all overtures and invitations to join the city.

They have indicated they preferred to remain in their little county island and to forego any of the benefits the city might offer them, including, by the way, having their streets swept at periodical intervals.

Before anyone gets the wrong impression and assumes that there has been a change of policy on the part of the county road department, the sweeping was done on Kenneth Ave. by the City of Campbell's street sweeper, Frances adds.

WE HAVEN'T checked with Ken Hickman, Campbell street superintendent.

So it is pure conjecture on our part as to whether there was a new man behind the wheel who didn't realize he had strayed into county territory or whether the sweeping was done as a sort of good neighbor policy.

But whatever the reason, we don't think the residents had better set their clocks by it. We doubt that it will become routine.

That is, unless the residents have a change of heart and decide to join the city.

TREE DOCTORS apparently have a pretty fair practice in this neck of the woods.

There have been several cases in recent months in city circles when tree surgeons were called into the act.

One case, for example, that comes to mind concerned a wounded oak in a new subdivision that adjoins the City of Saratoga.

The majestic oak that stands in the center of the tract had been attacked, according to reports, by some party who wanted to acquire firewood and was brazenly sawing away at the limbs before he was stopped.

What made matters so critical was that residents across the creek in Saratoga had protested the new tract from the beginning because of the size of the lots.

They also wanted all the trees in the area saved. The developer, Leep Homes, an' the city agreed tha. all trees would be saved wherever practical.

THAT OAK, of course,

UNUSED SPACE - Students of West Valley College seem to prefer residential streets for parking their cars instead of using the college lot between Rincon and Campbell avenues (above). Next year movable classrooms will be placed on the lot which may entice more students to use the facility. Movable classrooms will also be placed on the Latimer parking lot which is now packed with students' cars.

Planners ok parking lot classrooms

By a 3-2 vote, the Planning Commission approved the application of West Valley College for a use permit to allow four movable classrooms to be placed on the college parking lot between Rincon and Campbell avenues.

The use permit also allows a residence at 175 Campbell Ave. owned by Mrs. Connie Regas to be used for office purposes by the college.

Casting the negative votes were Commissioners Jim Tomlinson and Kel Young. Tomlinson said he was concerned over the increasing demands of the college for more classroom space and where it was going to end. He pointed out that it was only in December that 20 movable classrooms were approved for the Latimer lot.

Young contended that the conditions levied by the engineering department on the approval for the use of the residence at 175 Campbell Ave. were unfair to the property owner, particularly that concerning future street dedication. He disliked (and other commissioners concurred) to have these conditions as part of the planners' approval when the planners had nothing to say about them.

Dick Hogan, planning director, explained that the street dedication condition was city policy and was no different in this case than in any other instance.

James Hardy, business manager of the college, told the commission that the classrooms were needed because present facilities for lab work were inadequate, something they did not know in December. He said that the college did not plan any more movable classrooms for next fall.

When asked by Tomlinson when they expected to have the Saratoga campus ready. Hardy said that it would be probably two or three years subsequent to a successful bond election.

Abstaining from the discussion as well as the voting was Commissioner Tom Perry, an instructor at West Valley College.

However, Perry took milk exception to Tomlinson's description of the movable classroom complex. He invited Tomlinson to visit his classes. Tomlinson agreed his choice of words was poor (He had called it a "temporary

Fire damages trees

A fire of undetermined origin on Monday afternoon destroyed an ancient two-story house, which was in the process of being demolished, in the new Leep Homes subdivision on Pollard Road.

Of prime concern to Campbell city officials, and especially to residents of Saratoga across the creek, was whether the trees adjacent to building will survive their scorching.

An ironic twist to the smokey situation was that the Saratoga residents, successful in their pleas that all trees in the tract be saved wherever possible, had opposed a previously suggested "control burn" for demolishing the old house.

Local man loses life in holdup

Clarence Eugene (Gene) Wylder, 333 Virginia Ave., was murdered in cold blood Monday afternoon in Mt. View. The wanton murder occurred in the Mt. View Pay Less Drug Store when Wylder, a Loomis armored car guard for more than 13 years, was approached by two gunmen, who shot him in the back and after grabbing the money sack containing more than $20,000 in checks and money, deliberately shot the wounded man for the second time as he lay on the floor.

C. of C. to move into Pines Plaza building on Rincon

Campbell Chamber of Commerce, experiencing its greatest growth in its history, will move into new office space in the Pines Plaza office building at 100 W. Rincon, about the first of next month, Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager, reported this week.

The C. of C. office has been located in the Country Woman's Club building at First and Campbell Ave. since November 1964. The C. of C. and the museum, operated by the Country Woman's Club, have occupied the same quarters in the building since that time.

Duffield said the expanding membership and an aggressive program planned by the Chamber had made it imperative for the directors to find larger quarters. He said the new office in the Pines Plaza building will have 600 square feet and will allow for a reception area, manager's office and a conference room.

Duffield said that although the membership has now reached its greatest peak, an ambitious membership drive is scheduled for March at which time a further increase in members is anticipated.

The C. of C. will pay $125 per month for office space in Pines Plaza, a building owned by Mrs. Connie Regas and occupied by a number of professional firms. The C. of C. will be located in Suite 101 on the first floor of the building.

Entry to the C. of C. office will be from Rincon. Duffield said that directional signs will be placed in various locations in the business district of town directing people to the new location.

NEW HOME OF C. OF C.--Campbell's Chamber of Commerce will move its headquarters into the Pines Plaza building, 100 W. Rincon, about March 1, Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager, has announced.

Four seek two council seats

Incumbent city councilmen, Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, will be opposed by John Billmeyer and Ted J. Bauer in the city election on April 12.

Billmeyer and Bauer filed their nomination papers just before the deadline last Thursday, according to City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan. Doetsch and Hyde had filed previously.

Billmeyer, who resides at 151 Marianna Way, was an unsuccessful candidate in the 1964 city council election finishing fourth in the field often for three offices.

He is a member of the city's Park and Recreation Commission and is employed by the Merchants Association of San Jose. He has been a resident of the Tax reform is pending

It is obvious that sooner or later in this state of ours the property tax structure is going to undergo major overhaul.

Politicians, tax experts and fiscal authorities have become concerned over the mounting tax load that the individual property owner is forced to carry. They agree that something must be done about it.

We expect there will be many solutions of one sort or another introduced at the state level with the basic reasoning that the property tax payer must be relieved.

Yet it is obvious to all concerned that if taxes are decreased in one segment of the tax structure they must be increased in another.

One of the first moves on the state level ostensibly to relieve the burden of the property tax payer was recently made by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh. He has introduced a measure in the legislature entitled, "The Property Tax Relief and School Improvement Act of 1966."

We have no idea whether this measure will do what it is claimed it will. But it does emphasize the basic principle. If you decrease in one spot, you increase in another. The question seems to be then which spot is deserving of relief.

As we understand Unruh's proposal, the mandatory property tax reduction would be financed by a 1¢ increase in the 3¢ state sales tax. According to the bill's author, the tax increase will produce $360, 000, 000 in new state revenue earmarked exclusively for the State School Fund. The bill contains specific reforms in the financing of California's approximately 1, 250 school districts.

Whether or not one agrees to Unruh's approach to tax reform seems to us rather incidental at this time. We don't know whether it will help or hinder the individual's taxload. But we do maintain that every conceivable approach should be explored. We feel that the entire tax structure is badly in need of reform.

Unruh's explanation of the reasons behind the new measure, we also think are worthy of perusal:

"Two major elements have emerged from the two-year study of local property taxation and the state tax structure recently concluded by our Assembly Committee on Revenue and Taxation."

"One is that the property tax, given the high rates which are levied throughout California today, may have outlived its usefulness as a major support of local government.

"The other is that the traditional thought that the sales tax hits the poor family harder than the middle class family is simply not true today in California.

"Our Assembly studies clearly showed that the majority of Californians owning their own homes, and given high property tax rate, it is the property tax which is regressive--not the sales tax. As long as the sales tax is not extended to the sales of food and drugs, it is today a fair source of support for governmental services."

Unruh claims that his bill represents a major attempt to shift the burden of support from education from the over-burdened property owner.

According to the Speaker, the measure will increase public school foundation programs by $141 per child and nearly all these new funds would be applied toward property tax reductions in the poorer districts of the state. He estimates the tax reduction would average about 25 per cent.

It would be ridiculous for The Campbell Press to argue the merits of this bill. We are too far removed from the scene of action, and we make no pretense in being a tax expert.

Yet we have consistently maintained in these editorial columns that there is need for tax reform. We admit we don't know the solution. But we welcome efforts to find one.

We have long argued also that bond issues for capital improvements on a local level is the fair way to finance improvements because it spreads the cost over a long period of time. Those who benefit must also pay.

We admit that it is still the property owner, under the present tax structure, who redeems the bonds, but it makes the burden less painful when the redemption is spread over the years.

Basically relief is what we think we are striving for whether it is by Unruh's bill, bond issues or by new scources of taxation.

We all know we must pay taxes.

The question is what is the fairest way to do it. All who benefit from the services rendered by government should share in the cost.

But how to put that basic principle into effect is mighty complex.

Brydon to file?

Observers of the county political circles are expecting an announcement shortly that Robert Brydon, long time rancher and active school worker, will file for the new 24th District Assembly post. Brydon, who is currently serving as chairman of the Board of Trustee's for the West Valley Junior College, has been interested in the county political activities for a number of years, and the political rumor is that he will seek the assembly post.

was high on the list.

You can imagine the consternation when it was discovered that it had been sawed upon.

The developer informed the City Council that he had immediately contacted a tree surgeon to see what could be done about saving the wounded oak. But the fate of the oak can not be determined until the sap begins to run again.

THAT EMPHASIZED to us more that these tree doctors do have an important role to play in our community.

So-called "progress" has replaced so many trees by blacktopping and building around here that it has become increasingly important that the trees that remain must be healthy ones if they are going to survive.

We know.

We have just lost an old friend, a beautiful walnut tree that shaded our entire back yard.

At least that is the sad report Ralph Doetsch, councilman and an orchardist of some 30 years experience, made after an examination of the limbs and trunk of the tree.

Ralph doesn't classify himself as a "tree doctor" by any manner or means. We called him in on the case as sort of a consultant. We had sort of figured that our walnut tree was not long for thie world after it lost its leaves last summer.

And Ralph verified our worst fears. There was no need to call in a doctor. The tree had gone to wherever good old trees go when they leave this world.

BUT OUR OWN back yard bereavement has emphasized again the need to continue with efforts to save our surviving trees from "progress," disease or careless use of saws. In our opinion our valley has already lost too many of its finest features in the name of progress.

We note, for example, that Los Gatos is in a bit of a dilemma over a tree situation. City officials have become a mite concerned because a new commercial complex is going to remove some stately trees. And we think it is right that they should be concerned.

Campbell's city council fortunately is tree-minded, we are happy to report. Ed Rogers, for example, has carried the banner of trees and more trees since he first came on the council six years ago. And the other members are also conscious of the value of trees in a community.

Having Ralph Doetsch, an experienced orchardist on the council, gives a practical approach to the tree problems.

PUZZLED and somewhat intrigued was our reaction to the following statement in the minutes of the last meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission:

"Mention of the coverage by the Campbell Press was indeed brief, a fitting attribute since the coverage was brief."

It had reference to the questionaire that the commission prepared and was distributed by Boy Scouts to the residents in an attempt to get the citizens' reaction on parks and recreation programs.

Driver hits PG & E pole

Lights were out for several hours on the west side of Campbell Saturday night due to an accident on San Tomas Road, 500 feet north of Hazel Ave.

Robert M. Tobin, 21, of 200 San Jose Ave., San Jose, told Campbell Police he was unfamiliar with the curves in the road and his 59 Hillman hit two trees and damaged a PG & E light pole.

Power failure

Lights flickered out over a large area Saturday night and everyone retired early or sat by candlelight following a car accident occurring at 9:50 p.m. resulting in a distribution power pole being severed at San Tomas and Hazel. Power was not restored until approximately four hours later. A short power failure occurred Monday evening cutting off power in the downtown area for approximately 20 minutes at the peak of the heavy traffic. Signal lights were out at major intersections and police officers were called to traffic duty until power was restored.

Final Sign action

Final action is expected Monday night on the petition of the American Auto Stores for permission to erect two large 8' by 66' signs on the Campbell and Harrison Avenue sides of the old Clark's Drug Store building. The meeting will convene at 8 p. m. in the City Council Chambers, 75 N. First St. The sign has been opposed by Councilman Ed Rogers.

Mobil station is burglarized

Colla's Mobile Station at 1600 N. Winchester Blvd. was broken into Friday night and approximately $95 in cash stolen.

The proprietor, Lou Colla, told Campbell Police he discovered the burglary when he opened for business at 7a.m. Saturday morning. A pry bar had been used to pry open the cigarette machine and 50 packages of cigarettes were taken.

Three hurt

Gerald Sangiacomo, 21, of 947 W. Campbell Ave. is in Kaiser Hospital recovering from injuries received when his car spun out of control in the construction area on West Campbell and Virginia Ave. Saturday night. The youth was thrown from his car and knocked unconscious.

Sangiacomo's car hit the 1962 Thunderbird driven by Gerald N. Salice, 21, of 860 Rincon Ave. Both Salice and his passenger, Gerri Lee, 20, of 19711 Saratoga-Los Gatos Rd., received minor cuts and bruises.

Drive-in Theatre

Action on the application for a drive-in theatre off Union Avenue and McGlincey Lane has been postponed by the Santa Clara County Planning Commission until March 16 at 8:30 a.m.

Hearing on the controversial subject was originally scheduled for Feb. 16. Although outside of the Campbell city limits, the site is still within the Campbell sphere of influence, and considerable interest is shown in the decision of the County planning body.

The use permit is being asked by Syufy Enterprises for the 14 acre Andrew Scorsur property just off the Freeway 17.

his rounds collecting the stores' money when the cold-blooded murder occurred. According to witnesses Wylder apparently offered no resistance and his gun was still holstered after the shooting. The brutal and senseless murder occurred in mid-afternoon in the crowded store and late reports indicate that the two are still at large. The shooting was done with a powerful foreign-made automatic which was fired without warning into the small of Wylder's back.

After Wylder fell the heavy money sack was grabbed from his hands; and then, for no reason, the bandits shot him again. The men then walked through the store and escaped in a 1965 blue and white Ford, license number DAF 841. The murderers are described by witnesses as being "odd-looking and between the ages of 35 and 38".

Funeral services are pending at the Campbell Memorial Chapel for the well-known Campbell community man. The final rites will be conducted by Pastor Perry A. Carlson of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, of which church Wylder was a member.

Wylder, 55, is survived by his wife, Lillian, a son, Paul, both of Campbell, and a married daughter, Janice. Wylder had been a resident of the Virginia Avenue address for many years.

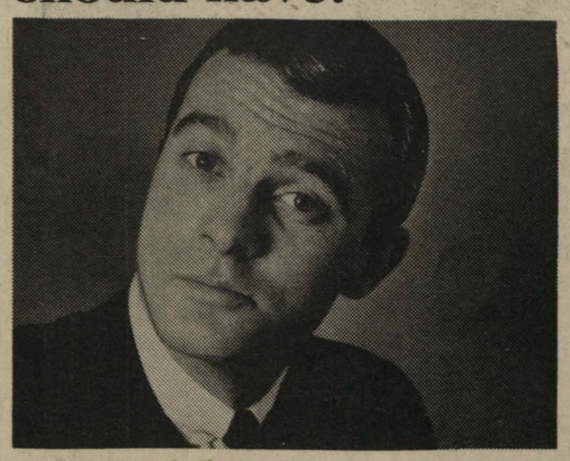
What every local businessman should have:



a local bank

Not just any local bank, though. If you want the best business banking, you need a local bank that's progressive enough to supply every business banking service.

Namely, First National.

Because we're local, we have less ground to cover. So we can cover it better and faster. When you want a business loan, our people can make a decision quickly, based on local conditions.

When it comes to modern services, though, we don't take a back seat to anyone. Matter of fact, we were a leader in the country in processing our bank business electronically. And in developing similar computer services to help you in your business.

And like us, our computers are local. So if you ask us to handle your payroll or accounts receivable we don't need to ship your records out of the county.

Another thing, back in 1953, we were the first bank in the West to issue a retail credit card. So people here have "charged it" to the Bank for 13 years.

But, surely we don't need to tell you the benefits of doing business locally. Let's just say this: If you want a bank where your business comes first...come to First. "The Bank that Lives—and works—in Santa Clara County."

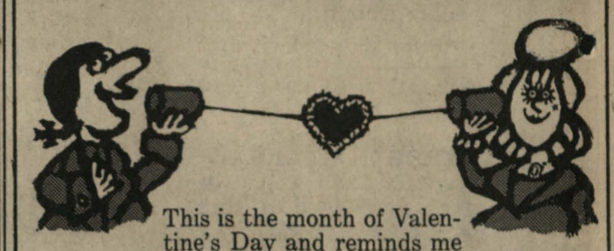
Campbell placed first in the contest, which was based on year round community efforts to reduce fires and educate the public on prevention.



This is the month of Valentine's Day and reminds me that someone once listed phone calls as the third most popular way to propose. Back in 1667 an Englishman, Robert Hooke, developed a "Cupid's Telegraph" — two tin cups connected by a taut string, whereby tender messages might be exchanged. Poor Hooke was dismissed as being "possessed by the devil." But obviously he was ahead of his time and foresaw an engaging way to win a lady's hand!

Building permits show decrease

Valuation of building permits issued during January in Campbell showed a sharp drop compared to the same month the year previously, the city's building department reports.

In January this year, building permit valuation totalled $238,145 compared to $286,483 in January, 1965, a decrease of $48,348.

During January there was only one permit issued for a single family dwelling for $14,785 and four duplexes for $85,650. One commercial building permit for $27,450 and three industrial permits for $99,000 provided the biggest part of the total.

Alterations and additions came to $5,670 and demolitions to $1,500. All other permits totalled $4000.

Campbell merchants seek plan to unite

By Duane Burleigh
Advertising Manager
The Campbell Press

It's another "A-plus" for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

This time it is the Chamber's Retail Division that is making news and it's big news, indeed!

The chairman of the group is Meryl MacLean, who jokingly refers to himself as one of the "johnny come latelys" of Campbell--the other being Chamber Manager Jim Duffield. Both of these gentlemen have been in our mist, the former arriving just seven months ago and the latter enjoying a six month tenure.

Last week the retail group numbering 20 retailers met at 7:30 a.m. in the Prelude restaurant. They were called together by MacLean and presented with a plan to integrate the four Campbell shopping centers and the downtown area into an overall retail effort. These merchants represented the Kirkwood Plaza, Hamilton Plaza, Campbell Plaza, Campbell Shopping Center, San Tomas Village and the downtown area. Enthusiastically endorsed was a plan to stage at least two area-wide retail promotions for 1966.

Names and dates of these promotions will be determined in the near future by a subcommittee composed of Meryl MacLean and Rich Aldous, Kirkwood Plaza; Gene Kelley and Jerry Wagner, Campbell Plaza; Jesse Eagerton and Jerry Callner, Hamilton Plaza; Mrs. Fred Smith and Joe Bennett, San Tomas Village; Frank Goodner and Bill Means, Campbell Shopping Center and Rex Jeffers and Jack Zimmerman representing the downtown group.

An effort such as this is long overdue. With the exception of several larger stores and these, too, have suffered to a large degree, there has been no effort in the past to integrate the five Campbell shopping areas into a retail effort. As a result, other shopping centers outside of the Campbell area have profited enormously from this oversight. In other words, the old axiom of "hang together, or hang, separately" has certainly been the order of the day.

Now, The Press believes a drastic change will take place. Now the outside area retail centers will have to work a little harder to enjoy Campbell patronage. This does not mean that the Campbell centers and downtown will not schedule promotions in their own bailiwicks.

They will be staged as usual for such is the nature of competition. It does mean, however, that Campbell will enjoy the results of "togetherness" on the part of area retailers.

In our humble opinion, a golden era in the overall picture is unfolding.

Beverly Ann Jones is lovely February bride

Reverend Harry M. Liechty of the First Baptist Church of Campbell officiated at the marriage of Beverly Ann Jones and James Drake Brimble earlier this month. The late afternoon double ring ceremony was witnessed by nearly 200 friends and relatives of the couple.

The petite bride was lovely in a gown of French silk peau de soi, styled with a fitted bodice and scoop neckline. A detachable train fell from the waist back. Her bell shaped skirt was accented with a front panel detailed with alencon lace and seed pearls. A silk rose held her four tiered illusion veil in place and she carried a white lace Bible with a bouquet of white rose buds and cascading stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

DiAnne Crewse of Campbell was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cynthia McMillan and Cathy Jones. Cheryl Gay Daniel, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. All of the bridal attendants wore identically styled gowns of ice blue French chalk crepe. Their matching headpieces formed a rose pattern and were adorned with blue demi-veils. All attendants carried yellow roses tied with satin ribbons. The flower girl carried a tulle basket filled with yellow rose petals.

Jeffrey L. Spratt stood as best man and ushers were David J. Jones, Richard L. Jones, Jeffrey W. Brimble and John Brimble. Linda Hanson was the vocalist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall, where the newlyweds cut a three tiered wedding cake. The bride's table featured a lovely blue lace tablecloth, silver candelabras and blue tapers. Coffee was served from a silver service which was presented to the couple by the bride's parents.

The young couple spent their honeymoon in Carmel, Monterey and Pebble Beach. They are making their first home in San Jose.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DRAKE BRIMBLE
(Beverly Ann Jones)

The bride is the daughter of Robert Jones, Jr., and Mrs. Opal Daniel Jones of San Jose. A graduate of Campbell High School, class of 1964, she was a student council representative and active in Girls Sports affairs. She was also graduated from San Jose Dental College.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brimble of Fullerton, Calif. He is a graduate of Sunny Hills High School of Fullerton where he was active in sports.

Women educators to hold four county conference

Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary society of women educators, will hold its annual all day conference for members from four counties on Saturday, Feb. 26, at San Jose City College.

The keynote speaker of the morning will be Miss Ruth Adams, principal of George Washington High School in San Francisco. The luncheon speaker will be Mrs. Anne Rambo, formerly with Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, and now a world traveler and lecturer.

The title of Miss Adams' address will be "Creative Individuals, Their Value to a Society"; and Mrs. Rambo will speak on "Unsung Creativity", in which she will describe some of the people she has met in her world travels.

Miss Adams is one of the few women principals of a secondary school in the entire state of California, and is first vice-president of the state organization of Delta Kappa Gamma. For many years she served on the Board of the YWCA, and on the Committee of Family and Children, a division of the San Francisco Community Chest. In recognition of her service, The San Francisco Examiner gave her the A. Phoebe Apperson Award in 1963 as one of the ten most outstanding women in the Bay Area.

Mrs. Rambo was formerly a counselor at Glendale College. An aviatrix since the early days of aviation, during World War II she served the U.S. Navy as the Commanding Officer of a flight school in Arizona, and later was commissioned as an officer in the Army Air Corps to serve at West Point. In 1955 she joined Lockheed as Education Director. Since leaving Lockheed she has been making free-lance educational film strips.

Chairman of the conference is Miss Barbara Mackay, instructor of 7th grade Social Studies in Union Elementary School; and Miss Arlene Shindledecker, vice principal of Andrew Hill High School, is director of the four-county area of Delta Kappa Gamma.

BUC BANTER

BY MARY KNOWLES ALLEN

"Midnight Mist" will be presented Friday, March 4, from 9 to 12 p. m. at the San Jose Women's Club. For this year's Senior Ball, the fine orchestra of Johnny Vaughn will be playing. While the Senior Ball is the most formal occasion of High School years, dark suits will be acceptable for the males as rental of tuxedos is hard on the budget. The day set for final payments on the bids is Monday, Feb. 28. Be sure to get your final payment made.

As a senior, I would like to say something extra. The Senior Ball is supposed to be one of the biggest occasions of the year. This year's senior class seems to be lacking in spirit. In the future I would like to have something memorable to look back on, and I'm sure that most of you other seniors feel the same way. Only you can do what it will take to have this year as one of the most precious in your memories. It's up to all of us.

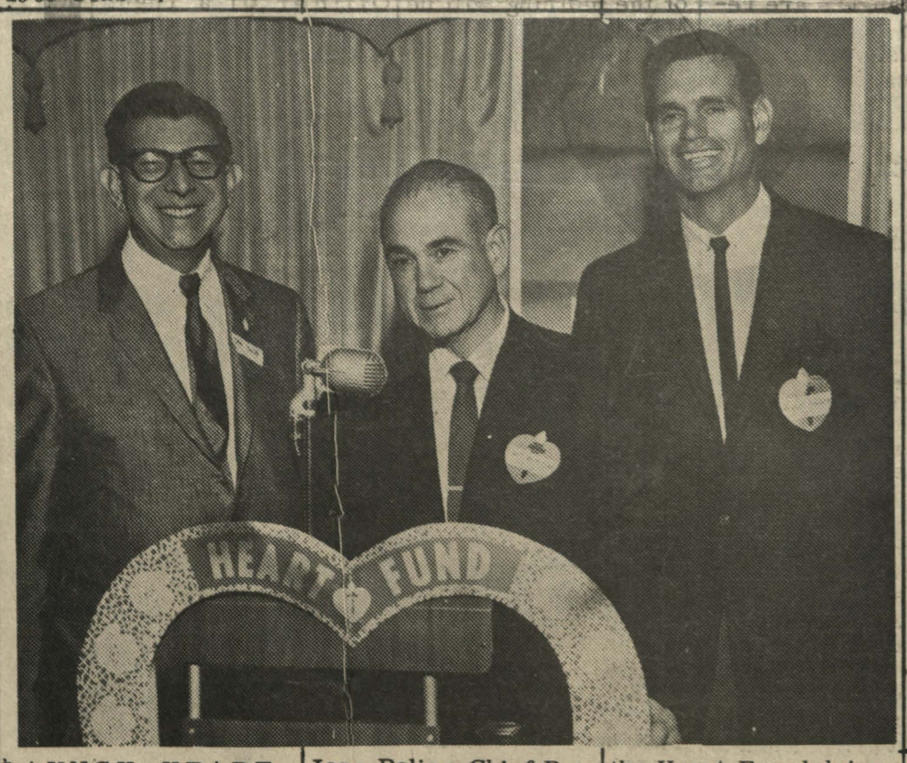
The annual Honor Society Banquet will be held tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. in the Campbell High School cafeteria. Featured speaker will be Dr. Gene Wallar, a San Jose State Professor and former assistant director of Peace Corps trainees. The officers for C. S. F. and Honor Society are George Taniguchi, president; Greg Hegstrom, vice president; Angel Grindon, secretary; and Val Bosler, treasurer.

Rehearsals for Camelot are still going strong daily, even on Saturday and Sunday. I asked Sir Lancelot (oops, Mark Ebner) about the success of Camelot. "I believe Campbell High has proved its capability in putting on and presenting musicals in the past, it will continue to do so in the future."

The A Cappella Choir will be going to Westmont High School on March 3, for a two hour mass rehearsal of the district choirs for the March 31 Music Festival.

BECOME SEMI-FINALISTS - Sixteen percent of the 1966 graduating class of Mother Butler Memorial High School have been named semi-finalists in the California State Scholarship program this year. Four of them from the West Valley area are pictured here (left to right) Kerry Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Mathews of Saratoga; Mary Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mathews of 1098 Arroyo Seco Dr., Campbell; Barbara Triplett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Triplett of Monte Sereno and Kathleen Harville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Harville of 109 W. Budd Ave., Campbell.

LITTLE LEAGUE TIME - Rich Barry (right) and Bob Holman, officials of the Campbell Little League, sign up brothers David (left) and Joe Bruntz for the 1966 season. Accompanied by their father, Rolland Bruntz, the brothers were among the early arrivals as signups began at the fieldhouse at Rosemary School. Registration will continue through March 5 on Saturdays from 9 until 3 p.m. and weekday evenings. Boys must be at least eight years old but not yet 13 by August 1, 1966.



LAUNCH HEART DRIVE - Radio and TV personality Ira Blue (left) and San Francisco 49'er Coach, Billy Wilson of Campbell (right), join with San Jose Police Chief Ray Blackmore in launching the 1966 fund campaign of the Santa Clara County Heart Association. Blackmore is general chairman of the Heart Fund drive, which will be climaxed on Heart Sunday, Feb. 27, in a county-wide door to door canvas by 11,000 volunteers.

WARRIOR WAYS

BY LYNDA WYCKOFF

WESTMONTS WRESTLING TEAM took the Championship this season, and our Junior-Varsity basketball team is undefeated.

The all school play will run three days rather than the scheduled two. It will be held on March 24, 25, and 26. March 25 will be student night, all students having a student body card will be admitted for 25 cents.

Friday night, Feb. 26, the German Club is sponsoring a dance featuring the "Syndicates."

WARRIOR OF THE WEEK
STEVE KNOCHE

Steve is a senior here this year, and is planning to go to Santa Barbara for college. As a Math and English major Steve plans on continuing in the field of Math or Drafting.

Born in Glendale, California, Steve has never been out of the state. After college, however, he plans to travel to Japan, England and the Scandanavian countries.

As hobbies Steve enjoys body surfing and searching through old houses for antiques. He also loves to drive and someday he wants to race.

Playing the part of a philosopher in the school play is just the kind of thing Steve likes to do. He feels that acting is a release from the every day routine.

Student Council has proposed a new idea for keeping our campus clean! They suggest we adopt a Student Court System where the students littering the campus would be brought before the Court and sentenced by the students themselves.

If anyone has any suggestions about this please see your representatives.

BLACKFORD BEAT

BY DIANE GIPSON CAROL COOK

Last week the Braves racked up two more victories in their name on the league charts. Tuesday, both the Frosh-Soph and Varsity teams defeated the Saratoga Falcons on the Blackford court. The final varsity score read 61-31 for another win for Blackford.

Friday night the Braves smashed the Campbell varsity with a 72-33 score. The 6' 9" Brave, Dennis Awtrey, netted 33 points playing in only three quarters. Adding this victory to their long string of wins, the Braves are on their way to the fifth straight tournament win.

The past week was spent and the following weeks will be spent in scheduling freshmen, sophomores, and juniors for their next year classes.

On Thursday, March 17, the "Harlem Clowns" will invade the Blackford courts to match wits with the courageous Blackford faculty. This promises to be an enjoyable meet. Adults will be charged $1.50, students and children, $1. Everyone is invited!

The following night on Friday, March 18, the annual Senior Ball will be held in the Blackford cafetorium.

All the students of Blackford enjoyed a four day weekend in honor of George Washington's birthday. However, for some this may have been just an opportunity to get rid of any of the flu viruses they might have picked up. Hopefully, Blackford will be in tact once more this week as almost a quarter of the Brave student body was missing last week.

"Spring hats and fancies"

A bevy of spring hats, colored straw bags and orlon-jersey shifts will be offered for sale to the public next Friday when St. Lucy's Mother's Guild sponsors "Spring Hats and Fancies" at the Parish Hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd.

URBANIZED

By 1980, it is estimated that more than 90 per cent of all Americans will live in urban areas.

Navy offers higher pay to carpenters

The Navy has announced a new program allowing qualified young men skilled in construction trades to enlist in the Navy Seabees at advanced pay grades.

For example, a journeyman carpenter with three years experience, if otherwise qualified, could be enlisted directly as a second class petty officer, pay grade E-5 (A recruit enters the service at pay grade E-1).

Seabees are the Navy's overseas construction teams. The need for more Seabees has grown rapidly as the need for more airfields, harbors and other construction work in Viet Nam has expanded.

This "direct rating" program is similar to the one used in World War II. It allows a man skilled in the building trades, heavy equipment operation, mechanics, engineering, and steel working to continue working at his trade and to fulfill his military obligation at the same time. The age limit for this program extends to 40 years.

Lockheed club donates $9400 to heart fund

The 1966 Heart Fund campaign has received an encouraging impetus at the outset, with a contribution of $9,400 from the Lockheed Employees Buck-of-the-Month Club.

A check in this amount was presented to the general campaign chairman, San Jose Police Chief Ray Blackmore, by William E. Hoffman, professional employment supervisor at Lockheed.

The county Heart Association drive will be climaxed on Heart Sunday, Feb. 27, by a county-wide door-to-door canvass.

Goal of the 1966 campaign is $131,000, most of which is used for heart and blood vessel research. Annually, the funds allocated to hospitals and colleges for heart research in this county have exceeded the money raised in the campaign here. Mrs. J. A. Casalegno is chairman of the Heart Fund Drive in Campbell.

Faculty wives meet tonight

AMATEUR AUDITIONS SUNDAYS

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Probably the most compelling force which favors the principle behind our foreign aid program is the basic human instinct in ordinary people to help the poor, the downtrodden and the oppressed.

If one needs his faith in his fellow man revitalized, he needs only to encounter true misfortune and experience the kindness and assistance of his neighbors when they learn of his troubles.

It always has seemed to me that the multi-billion dollar Agency for International Development (AID) has failed to find a means of utilizing this basic human instinct of "help thy neighbor." Instead, it insists upon the grandiose and impersonalized approach which so often goes unappreciated.

Though there are numerous private agencies sending relief to Vietnam, the effort is proliferated. Rather than remaining behind the scenes this time, there is need for AID to exert some leadership and coordinate private efforts. Project Vietnam is one exception; however, it deals primarily in services rather than goods.

Under the project every eight weeks 32 American physicians leave their lucrative private practices to work without pay in civilian Vietnamese hospitals. The natives are grateful and the doctors find their reward in having helped people in need.

At Christmastime when the military forces indicated they would transport food, clothing and supplies donated by Americans to the needy in Vietnam, the response was overwhelming. Almost immediately the collections surpassed the delivery capability, and today more than 90 carloads of material is warehoused in Utah awaiting shipment.

Here is an opportunity for AID to exploit the instinct of human kindness and really start goodwill ebbing and flowing between Americans and Vietnamese.

Recently when I learned of the efforts of the Los Gatos Lions Club to assist their fellow men, I addressed the following letter to AID Administrator, Mr. David E. Bell:

"The members of the Los Gatos Lions Club in my Congressional District worked long hours to accumulate more than four tons of clothing, medical supplies, canned food, dietary supplements and several cartons of soap, shoes, candy, gum and toys for distribution to needy citizens of South Vietnam.

Unfortunately no transportation is available. Many carloads of similar items have been collected by other groups and are now stored in warehouses because transportation is unavailable.

"It is my considered opinion that some foreign aid funds should be diverted from other areas, where the need is less and the desire to cooperate with the United States is lower, to make it possible for a ship to be chartered and these materials to be sent to Vietnam.

"I would suggest, further, that AID people or members of the Peace Corps be designated to handle the distribution of these materials directly into the hands of the Vietnamese people.

"What better way could we spend our foreign aid dollars?"

SJS continues to be largest

With 19,800 students having obtained registration packets for the spring term by last week, San Jose State College continues to be the largest of California's state colleges.

Although final enrollment figures will not be available until the completion of registration, the total will exceed the previous spring semester high of 19,024 registered students set in 1965. A total of 19,686 students were enrolled for the past fall semester.

Late registration for spring semester ended on Monday of this week.

WV College enrolls 4674

West Valley College reports a total of 4,674 students registered for the 1966 Spring semester, according to D. R. Ziegler, dean of admissions at the college.

The totals include 2,810 men and 1,866 women. There are 1,323 men and 623 women full-time students, 483 men and 512 women part-time students and 1,004 men and 731 women adult students, Dean Ziegler said.

The total is higher than the comparable semester last year, when 4,531 total registration was recorded, but, as usual in such cases, it trails the Fall semester just ended, when total registration was 5,019 students.

Dean Ziegler explained that difference can be accounted for in dropoff due to disqualifications, students called into military services.

Letters to the Editor

AGAINST FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

It is no secret that the U.S. Public Health Service has vigorously promoted artificial fluoridation of our public water supplies. This has been demonstrated in San Jose at the Public Utility Commission fluoridation hearings which will be resumed on March 9. While we have respect for this branch of our government, the USPHS, it is well to remember that they do make mistakes.

In a letter just recently mailed to the California State Legislators the Pure Water Association of America, which numbers among its sponsors many doctors and dentists, has listed a few of these mistakes and the following list is an excerpt from their letter:

"Unquestionably, artificial fluoridation of public water supplies is one of the biggest mistakes ever made by the USPHS. Here are a few others:

COUMARIN, imitation vanilla flavor, used for 75 years before USPHS discovered it caused irreparable liver damage, even when used in small amounts. (Cong. Record, Hearing on H.R. 2341, May 25, 26, 27, 1954)

DULCIN, a sweetening agent used for 50 years before USPHS discovered it had a high degree of toxicity when used daily. (Cong. Record, P. A4399, July 8, 1957)

MANY BLIND CHILDREN are living testimony to the lack of judgment of medical men as the result of the approved practice of highly concentrated oxygen given to premature infants, causing retro-lenticular fibroplasia. It took 20 years before this mistake was discovered. (Newsweek, June 7, 1954)

SODIUM IODIDE was added to public drinking water for 10 years before USPHS was forced to discontinue its use in water because of disastrous results. (Jour. Amer. Med. Assoc. 86: 1338, 1926.)

THALIDOMIDE - The American Medical Association tested thalidomide for six years, using 1200 physicians, all members of the A.M.A., yet it failed to discover that thalidomide causes babies to be born deformed. This discovery of thalidomide's danger was made by European physicians. It is significant, surely, that the bulk of warnings regarding artificial fluoridation also came from outside the U.S., which indicates an organized attempt to keep American public unaware of such hazards.

RADIUM CHLORIDE - The A.M.A., through its Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry, accepted deadly radium chloride as "safe" to add to bottled drinking water. About 15 years later, victims began dying of radium poisoning. Thereafter, radiated water was withdrawn from the market.

Every attempt by the U.S. Public Health Service to add dangerous drugs to the public water supply has meant illness or death to American citizens. Sodium fluoride, like sodium iodide and radium chloride is no exception!"

Respectfully yours,
Marguerite A. Snow

Many suggest names for new college campus

Indication that the Board of Trustees of West Valley College is seeking a name for the proposed Santa Clara campus has brought forth a veritable spate of suggestions from citizens throughout the district.

The names range from early Spanish to neo-modern, and at least three persons suggested the college be named for the dean of the Board of Trustees, and long-time educator, Edwin C. Browne.

Mostly, though, in keeping with the Spanish tradition of the Mission City of Santa Clara, the names are Spanish and historical in significance.

Among these are El Camino Real, Claraval, Catala, Portola, Jose Moraga, Junipero Serra, Joaquin Miller, Guadalupe, El Dorado.

A property-owner in the area suggested Esperanca. Other suggestions included South Bay, Bayshore, Mission, Westward, derived from West Valley and William Ward (who donated five acres to the site), Santa Clara City.

Joe Hernandez, a night custodian at the present campus, suggested the name be related to Padre Tomas de la Pena Saradia, who founded the Mission at Santa Clara.

Mrs. J. H. Weiland of San Jose offered a name that sounds Spanish, or maybe Japanese, Mononi, but she explained it is derived from "morning, noon and night."

Girl scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

Girl Scouts in Cadette Troop 55 will be celebrating their troop birthday at a birthday party Wednesday, Feb. 24 at Rolling Hills School. A challenge group consisting of Jeanette Allen, Cynthia Buckley, Joyce Whitman and Diane Martin are making the arrangements. Mothers have been invited and songs, games and entertainment have been planned to emphasize Girl Scout Thinking Day.

This same active troop supplied tray favors and valentines to some of the elderly people of our community. Delivering valentine decorated napkin rings to the Eldercare Convalescent Home in Campbell, and bookmarks and valentines to the Westmoreland Convalescent Home in Saratoga were Cadettes Wendy Weller and Elizabeth Arild. Nancy McIntosh delivered the napkin rings to Foothill Convalescent Home in Los Gatos. Leader of Cadette Troop 55 is Mrs. Al McIntosh and co-leaders are Mrs. Bill Baker and Mrs. Helen Weller.

Five troops in the neighborhood participated in a skating party recently from six to eight o'clock in the evening. Enjoying the party were Brownie Troop 202 and 159 and Junior Troop 359 from Forest Hills School, Brownie Troop 1034 of Capri School, and Junior Troop 1030 from Quito School. Co-ordinating the event was Mrs. Emory McGehee, leader of Brownie Troop 202, and her co-leader Mrs. Benjamin Snetsinger.

Girl Scouts begin cookie sale March 4

Sixteen thousand girls from seven to 17 in the Santa Clara County Girl Scout Council will be selling Girl Scout cookies from March 4 through the 14.

This is the annual fund-raising project for the maintenance and operation of the council. The United Fund provides two-thirds of the necessary operating capital, and the Girl Scout council must generate the other one-third.

As an added incentive to the girls selling the cookies, each Girl Scout troop receives a set amount for each case of 12 boxes sold. This pays for those weekend camping trips, troop equipment, and service projects which are a part of the Scouting program.

Dr. Mason will speak to parent groups

Dr. Bertha Mason, prominent San Jose physician and expert on family counseling, will speak on "Family Life and Sex Education", for parent discussion groups of Campbell Union High School District's six schools at Del Mar High School, Room 62, at 7:45 p.m. Monday, Feb. 28.

Mrs. Helen Andres, Parent Education Coordinator for the District, said that on the last occasion Dr. Mason spoke, "there was standing room only. She is a recognized expert in this field, and plans to answer questions and provide information on what parents want to know," Mrs. Andres said.

Although the meeting is at Del Mar High School, all members of parent discussion groups at all six high schools are urged to attend, as are any interested parents, Mrs. Andres said.

Southwest Branch YMCA adds 307 members to roster

Campbell men played a prominent role in the Southwest Branch YMCA's successful membership campaign which ended last week with a "goal-busting" 307 adult sustaining memberships.

Among the "quota busters" announced at a victory breakfast in First Methodist Church of Campbell was Campbell Fire Chief George Maxwell who reported in with 12 memberships.

Quota buster status goes to those who have "branded" at least six new members.

Campbell attorney James B. Baker was "boss" of the top range, the Flying Y.

John Hawkins of the Flying Y range had the top individual effort with 25 memberships. Army Capt. Robert Glasson, Crooked M range boss of 4830 Clydelle Ave., Cambrian Park, had 16, and Miles Tully of the Lazy C range rounded up 12.

General chairman of the campaign was Donald Callahan who also attained quota buster status with 11 memberships.

The successful campaign, which brought the Southwest "Y" $6,039 in sustaining adult memberships, will permit expansion of the "Y" youth program which provides activities for boys in the first through 12th grades, Art Northrop, branch executive, reported.

Southwest Branch headquarters are at 14790 S. Bascom Ave., Los Gatos.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE STORY by Lee Allen
This is an account of the compelling personalities whose careers have spanned six decades and provided baseball fans with many dramatic moments. From the founding of the American League in 1901 to the assault of Roger Maris on Babe Ruth's record and the expansion of the league in the sixties, Lee Allen covers the history with dash and spirit.

THREE ON A TOOTHBRUSH by Jack Paar
For nearly ten years Jack Paar has traveled across America via television, bringing wit, entertainment (and some lively battles) into millions of homes. Off the screen he has traveled to the far corners of the globe in search of exciting stories. With his wife and daughter he has journeyed to Russia, Africa, and the South Pacific. Although Jack took along his sense of humor, this account of his travels reveals a different Paar than the one familiar to TV viewers. This is the private Paar, a sensitive, courageous, adventurous man who relates his experiences with the ability to laugh at almost anything, including himself.

FUNNY MEN DON'T LAUGH
by Arnold M. Auerbach
A witty, nostalgic book about a gagman's early days in radio, and his friendship with Lou Jacobs, Fred Allen and Herman Wouk. This was the grand old era of Radio--when Franklin Roosevelt held the nation spellbound with the sound of his voice and Orson Welles terrified his audience with reports of a Martian invasion. It was also the hey-day of the stand-up comedian Fred Allen.

QUEEN CALAFIA'S ISLAND by R. L. Duffus
Facts and myths about the golden state.
California was christened before it was discovered and lied about before it was known to exist. The tongues of true California boosters wag about the biggness of this magnificent state, and they have a misty-eyed and mistaken devotion to California's past.
Mr. Duffus cites as examples their unfounded reverence for General John Fremont and the rugged virtues of the forty-niners.
He also points out that although California has the biggest natural harbor to sail in, the longest seacoast to play on, the many majestic mountains and valleys to explore, to get to these places they must drive through the most vulgar landscape man has devised.
